An earthquake tried to shake up the granite hills of New Hampshire on Monday but failed.

The only encouragement the Democrats have in this campaign is found in the words of Dr. Anderson: "Without bragging much, our prospects are tolerably fair."

Wisconsin is tenth on the list of tobacco States. In 1880, the product was over ten million pounds in this State. Kentucky was one hundred and seventy-one million, and Virginia seventy-nine million.

There will be a sort of free-for-all this week, between the Republican, Democratic, Temperance and Greenback orators.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

And the Sentinel not caring which wins next week.

Dr. Anderson, chairman of the Democratic State committee, is not prepared to say anything about the Democratic outlook. The doctor is cautious. He doesn't want to discourage his party by telling the truth, neither does he want to convict himself of going out of the way to find a campaign story.

Congressman Williams made a political speech at Monroe on Monday night, having a crowded house, of course, and an enthusiastic meeting. He gave them that kind of political gospel which is as sound as the principles of the party, and which always arouses the enthusiasm and old-time spirit of Republicans. He will speak at Eau Claire on Thursday night and at Racine on Saturday.

That unostentatious individual—Governor Cornell, of New York—is inaugurating more reforms, and making less fuss about it than any other Governor New York ever had. Tilden went into office blowing his reform trumpet but practically did not accomplish anything. Governor Cornell's administration has reduced taxation in that State $2,495,314 more than Tilden did in his, and $1,577,585 more than Governor Robinson did.

Two years ago Mrs. Ada Roberts, of Chicago, went to the law office of Theodore Weber and shot him dead. She was tried and judged insane and was sent to Elgin. Last week she made application to be released on the ground that she was sane having recovered from her mental derangement. After a trial lasting a few days she was discharged on Monday morning. She successfully accomplished her object. She sent Weber to his grave, freed insane, and in two years is a free woman. The law is faulty here. If the murderers who plead insanity could get a life sentence, there would be fewer murderers of that kind, and Mrs. Roberts would never have murdered Theodore Weber.

One of the most reckless misuses of bank funds ever known was that of Baldwin's, of Newark, New Jersey. He was cashier of the Mechanics' National bank, and had fraudulently misused over two million dollars of the funds. It will strike the public very strangely that the president and directors of the bank did not detect Baldwin in his bold schemes, long before he dragged the bank down to abject poverty. It is not known how the money was expended, but it is supposed that he lost it in Wall Street speculations. He has been arrested and of course will go to State prison. The bank is a general wreck, nothing remaining but the safe. The loss falls pretty heavily on Newark as a city, and upon many private individuals. It is said that when Baldwin gets behind the bars there will be three bank cashiers in the New Jersey State prison.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE REPUBLICANS.
It is conceded by all the parties that the Republicans will carry the State by a majority ranging from 12,000 to 20,000. A full vote will give them 20,000, but the dullness and lethargy of an "off year," with the Prohibitionists against the party, may possibly reduce the majority to 12,000. Chairman Sanderson, of the Republican State Central committee, has advised from all parts of the State and he gives it as his opinion that the temperance vote will not do the Republicans much harm, and that talking about 15,000 or 20,000 votes for the Prohibitionists is the sheerest nonsense. He also says that he has assurances from men all over the State prominently identified with the temperance cause, that they plainly see now that by voting for their ticket they will help the Democrats, and they are not inclined to do so. He gives the reports from all parts of the State on being exceedingly encouraging.

In regard to the prospects in Milwaukee county, Mr. Sanderson says: "I think I can safely figure our majority in Milwaukee county at 3,000. There are no indications that we should lose in any locality, that is, not more than must be ascribed to the general apathy of an off-year, and that will, of course, hit all parties alike. Falk may run a little ahead of his ticket in this county, but that will be more than offset by McFetridge running largely ahead in Dodge county. The registry business has been well looked after, but I am not prepared to say how many of the 2,000 votes that are not registered the present year in comparison with last year, we are going to lose. I believe, however, that the greatest loss in this direction will be on the side of the Democrats. I think that the Democrats will have a majority of the Milwaukee delegation to Madison, but I don't recollect a single campaign that these fellows didn't expect to carry almost everything. As far as I can see, they are sure only of one member of the Assembly, and that is because in that district we didn't nominate one."

However encouraging the outlook for the Republicans, they must remember that it will not do to hulk in too much confidence. The greater the victory the greater the honor, and every Republican in Rock county should put his shoulder to the wheel and help to make that victory as substantial as any ever gained in the county.

MR. NOWLAN AND THE FACTIONS.

There appeared in the Sunday Telegraph, in its last issue a dispatch from Janesville, giving the result of the Republican caucuses, and saying that Mr. Norcross, who is a friend of Congressman Williams, and a candidate for the Assembly, was beaten in every ward in the city, and that Mr. Nowlan who was nominated by the Republicans of the Second Assembly district, was an anti-Williams man. To the tenor of this dispatch the friends of Mr. Williams, and a large number of others, take exceptions, and very justly, too. Mr. Nowlan was not the candidate of any faction of the party. Before the caucuses were held and while his chances of a nomination were being canvassed, he was approached on the subject of the little difference between the two factions of Republicans in this city. In answer he firmly said he would not take up the cudgel for either faction, and that if he were nominated he wanted to be nominated as a Republican.

He went into the convention on this platform, and when he received the nomination by acclamation and was called upon for a speech, he very plainly and manfully defined his position. He said he was the candidate of no faction; that he did not propose to take any sides in any local quarrel; that he would not represent one faction and misrepresent another; that he would represent the Republican party; that he would make no pledges to the friends of one faction; and that he would make but one pledge and that was to represent the district to the best of his ability, and on a question in which all the people had a common interest, and about which there might be differences of opinion, he would carefully ascertain the will of the majority, and do his best to represent that will.

This is the position of Mr. Nowlan as stated in his speech at the hour of receiving the nomination, and the dispatch in the Sunday Telegraph does him an injustice, beside being an ungracious fling at Mr. Norcross, and a malignant stab at Mr. Williams. The relation of Mr. Nowlan to the factions which have unfortunately sprung up in Janesville, is that of a manly man. He is above stooping so low as to be the champion of one or the enemy of the other. For this reason the Sunday Telegraph's special places him in a false position and does him a wrong.

The consequences of sending these anonymous specials or communications attacking one faction or another of the Republican party, are mischievous. They are usually prepared by men inside the party, and thereby the matter is made worse, and the attacks are more unjust. Outside the party they are of but little consequence, but when one side begins to stab another and hides under a false name, it tends to the destruction of the party because it breaks up all harmony, robs it of its strength. The Gazette has never indulged in this sort of political warfare. Its columns have never been open to one side and closed to the other. It has never accepted the communication of a secret enemy who had a personal spite to gratify by attacking a foe and a faction inside the Republican party. During the senatorial contest last winter and spring there were many kind friends who wanted to give interest and amusement to the fight by contributing anonymous communications which reflected upon the position of Congressman Williams, but every one of them found its way into the waste basket or was returned to the author. Whenever there is anything to say against any man or any faction in the party, or any criticisms to make upon the position of any Republican in official position, the Gazette will do it boldly and editorially, and not adopt the cowardly practice of farming out to persons who dare not write over their own signatures. This is not only honorable journalism, but it is the only way to mete out justice and give harmony and strength to the party.

WILLIAMS IDENTIFIED.

A Cool Neenaher—A Military Escort Called for.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—There were startling developments in the Kuhl-Lon Williams case this forenoon. Sheriff Knight, of Dunn county; District Attorney Woodard, of St. Croix county, and Henry Coleman, the latter a brother of the murdered Coleman, all positively identified Kuhl as the man known to them as Lon Williams. The accused received their declarations without flinching, and has throughout displayed a nerve remarkable for one so terribly situated. Sheriff Rugee, in whose care Kuhl is, says "the cold, penetrating look of that man is enough to cow anybody." There are now four persons who have identified the prisoner—the persons named, and another of the Coleman brothers. Sheriff Knight comes provided with a warrant charging the accused with murder, and at 1 o'clock to-night he will be taken to the scene of his crime under a guard of twelve men.

The new developments have created considerable excitement here. The authorities do not doubt that the accused is William Kuhl, of Peoria, Ill., but at the same time hold that he is another criminal when away from home have associated as the "Williams" and the "Maxwell" brothers. Kuhl is at present writing out the names of the places, the names of the men with whom he associated, and some incidents in connection with each place and individual, hoping to prove an alibi. He begins to feel that the efforts of his counsel and brother-in-law are of no avail, since the authorities concede that he is Williams, and that it is now necessary for him to show and prove that he is not Lon Williams, but the honest laborer he claims to be. While the authorities are preparing to convey him to Dunn county, Kuhl's counsel are planning a sharp counter move, which may add to the excitement which has already obtained here. The officers from Dunn and St. Croix counties entertain no fears that Kuhl will be lynched, as public sentiment has become moderately reasonable since the terrible tragedy was enacted.

It now appears that the man arrested with Kuhl was his partner, known as Ed Williams. He has $50 in money and two revolvers on his person, and because of the money the authorities thought they would not hold him for vagrancy, though they now see that the charge of going armed is sufficient.

District Attorney Williams, in view of the complicated transfer of Kuhl or Lon Williams to Dunn county, telegraphed Governor Smith for a militia escort westward from Watertown. It is supposed the suspected prisoner will be turned over to the officers of Dunn county to-morrow forenoon. The ground for this military escort is that the jail the prisoner will be taken to is about twenty-eight miles from the railway, and that on the last stretch friends of the prisoner may rescue him or friends of the Coleman may lynch him.

District Attorney Williams was advised to telegraph Governor Smith for military escort of the prisoner, and that the force should be in waiting for the Sheriff, his posse and the prisoner, at Watertown. This escort is deemed necessary since the jail in which the accused will be lodged is fully twenty-eight miles from the line of railway a section isolated from the friends of Lon Williams, headed by Edward Rugee, some other desperado, might work a delivery, or where lynch law could be meted out to the accused by the exasperated friends of the Coleman brothers. The District Attorney immediately acted upon this advice and the officers will doubtless receive the necessary escort from Watertown westward. It was anticipated that Sheriff Knight would demand the custody of Kuhl or Lon Williams before night, and it was known that an armed posse of twelve men would leave Milwaukee with the accused. There was an impression that the prisoner would be taken westward on the early evening train, but it was thought by the most discreet in full circles, that the departure would be at an hour in the dead of night, when the going of so large a force would be free from the excitement it would be sure to create if an earlier hour were chosen.

THE JAMES OUTLAWS.

An Unsuccessful Attempt to Capture the Outlaws in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31.—The Courier-Journal's Bowling Green special says: "An organized effort was made Friday night to capture the James brothers in Logan county, near Adairsville. It had been rumored for several days that the robbers were in that neighborhood. A woman wrote to Governor Blackburn on the 10th that they intended to attack the Louisville and Nashville train at Colesburg soon. Governor Blackburn received the letter at Yorktown and turned it over to the railroad authorities, but in doing this and organizing several days were lost. Detectives Larry Hazen, of Cincinnati; G. W. Hunter, of Bardonia, and Sam M. Adams, of this city, organized an attacking party, which was under the direction of Hunter, the man who captured Gove Kennedy. The posse met at Russellville Friday evening, and numbered sixteen men, selected with especial reference to their cool courage. They were armed to the teeth with Winchester rifles, double-barreled shot-guns, and pistols. They arrived at 4 o'clock in the morning at the house of Hite, near Adairsville, where the robbers were known to have been a few days previous."

"They surrounded the house, a large two-story frame, and waited for daylight. About 6 o'clock in the morning Hite went to the barn where some of the posse were concealed, and was detained. The others then aroused the inmates of the house, and every window was covered by Hunter's men. After several calls, a half-witted son of Hite was seen to step out on the upper portico, and crawl to the edge and peep over between the balusters and floor, as if looking for some one. Some of the men were ready to fire upon him, thinking from his actions that he was one of the robbers. He was hailed, and told to get back into the house, which he did instantly. Hunter, Adams, and Hardy then approached the front door while others came up from the rear. After a thorough search of the premises it was found that the birds had flown. It is thought that they are near Bardonia. It is also thought that they murdered a negro who was found dead near Adairsville ten days ago, for having accidentally discovered them in the woods."

LABOR AND WAGES.

MILWAUKEE, October 31.—The Cigar-makers' Union this evening, adopted a new schedule of prices to be paid, which will be presented to the manufacturers to-morrow, and in case refusal to accept, about four hundred men will strike. There are over seven hundred in the union, but it is already known that several manufacturers will pay the prices demanded. The average increase of pay demanded is $1 per 1,000.

THE FLOODS.

The High Water and Damage by the Flood at Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, Oct. 31.—The water is still rising, being an inch or more higher than Saturday. The matter is getting alarming. The water is four inches over the express office, and the office had to be moved further up the street. The water now backs two blocks on each side of the river. Manufacturers and business men are becoming desperate at the situation, and are determined to have an outlet for the water at Neenah and Menasha. Some advocate making the outlet through the dam by force, if necessary. The business men's association have called for a committee from Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, and Fond du Lac, to meet here to-morrow, to show how some immediate relief should not be left for damage if the water is let off Lake Winnebago, and Oshkosh threatens Neenah if the water is not let off. Colonel Houston, engineer of the Government works on Fox River, has been telegraphed to come here and straighten matters out. Two bridges here are now impassable, and one is left for team travel. The damage to mills and factories and workmen in lying idle is estimated at $5,000 per day, with no prospects of the mills starting up again this fall.

Mrs. R. W. Ferguson's Steam Dye House, 85 North Main Street, Janesville, Wis. Dyes of every description, also dyes and dyes dyed, cleaned and finished in superior style. This is the original Steam Dye House, and was established in "the little stone house," in 1864, but has been at the present location No. 85, for several years. Since it was purchased by the present owner there have been many improvements added, and the house is turning out better work now than ever before. We have all required improvements in machinery. We employ the best workmen. We use only the best dyes; consequently we do good work. Our work don't crack. Samples of our work were on exhibition at the Rock County Fair. Goods sent to us by express or mail will receive prompt attention. Be sure you get the right name and number, as a dyer has opened a shop a few doors north of us, on the same street. Address.

Mrs. R. W. Ferguson,
Janesville, Wis., Box 1465.

A Cough, Cold, or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allowing irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrhs, and the Throat troubles which often follow colds. The Throat troches, which are pleasant and palatable, are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly a century, they have attained well-merited rank among the most reliable remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

of ill health to close out his entire stock as speedily as possible and at cost prices, intending to go westward in the spring. He made arrangements last spring, hoping to be able to close up his business, then, but owing to unforeseen circumstances, deemed it best to continue until the present, but now his plans are so perfected that there will be no change, and the stock will surely be sold as announced. The sale will commence accordingly to-morrow evening.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE DANITES.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. McKee Rankin appeared at the Opera House. The audience was much larger than was expected considering the fact that so many excellent entertainments have crowded in so close together. The Opera House was comfortably filled. The play is one which presents an exciting showing of life in the far west in the earlier years, and the plot underlying all the startling situations, and comical incidents is a strong one, and gives a natural outgrowth for them. There is something of the "blood and thunder" nature to the play, but this is happily relieved by a rich vein of comedy, and there are many tender passages as well. The play is one of the best of its kind, and it was presented by the company most excellently. Mr. McKee Rankin as "Sandy" was very strong. He bore his part with an ease and naturalness which was charming, and faithfully portrayed the warm-hearted, brave miner, with rough manners, yet with a vein of tender and poetic feeling running through his nature. Mrs. McKee Rankin in the dual character of "Nancy Williams," the last of a family doomed to death by the Danites, and as "Billy Piper," the boy miner, did most excellently, and fairly won the approval of the audience so generously bestowed upon her.

The other members of the company took their several parts well. There was not a poor piece of timber in the entire support, and a variety of talent was presented which gave spice and interest to every scene. The entertainment thus given was fully up to its promises and the audience was evidently delighted.

THE BAKER'S DAUGHTER.

This evening another rich treat is promised by the presentation of "The Baker's Daughter" by Collier's combination, under the auspices of A. M. Putner, of the Union Square theater, New York. It is a society drama which has won high praise wherever presented, and has become one of the most popular of its class. The cast is excellent, and the play will be put upon the stage in the best possible manner, with special scenery, and all other requirements for its faithful presentation.

THE GRAND CONCERT.

Such is surely the concert to be given at the Congregational church to-morrow evening, for Clara Louise Kellogg, whose fame is world-wide, is to appear, together with Brignoli, Alta Pease, and others who have established themselves as favorites among all music-lovers. Besides those from this city and vicinity who will attend, advice received from other towns in this part of the State, give the promise of large representations from each. The concert will call together one of the largest and best audiences ever gathered here, and the event will prove one of unusual interest and importance. Those who have not secured their seats should not delay as the orders are coming in at a rapid rate.

A Heavy Swell.

Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgille, N. Y., writes: "Your Thomas' Eclectic Oil cured a badly swollen neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured."

WORTHY PARTNERS.

Hon. John Winans and Ogden H. Fethers have joined hands, and to-day the firm of Winans & Fethers begins in their new and elegant law offices in Bennett's block. Both of these gentlemen are well and widely known, and together they form one of the strongest firms in the State. Mr. Winans has for some time been of the firm of Winans & McElroy, and has so long retained such a prominent position and such high rank as an attorney, that this name is almost a synonym of legal strength. Mr. Fethers, who has until now been associated with B. B. Eldredge, has been here fewer years, but at his very coming to Janesville took high rank among the members of the Rock county bar, and has held this rank easily, and extended his acquaintanceship rapidly. He has been connected with many of the most important cases in this part of the State, and has won for himself an enviable and justly earned reputation as a counselor and advocate. The success of a firm composed of two such men is not a matter of prediction, but is already assured.

The suite of rooms which they are to occupy as their offices are centrally and pleasantly located, are spacious, and conveniently arranged. They have been fitted and furnished elegantly, in fact, all of the needs for a first class office, have been provided with rare good taste, and so arranged as to make the office the finest, without doubt, of any in the State.

CHICAGO LETTER.

Special Correspondence to the Gazette.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Our old anti-fire post office has been demolished, and a very substantial building of mammoth proportions is rising in its place. It is owned by the First National bank of this city, and pronounced by competent judges to be the most solid building ever erected in the west.

Eighteen hundred buildings of all kinds have been erected and completed inside the city limits since March 1st. Entire cost, $15,400,000.

A wealthy Minneapolis gentleman was robbed in our board of trade rooms, on Tuesday last, of his pocket book containing $300 in bills and $50 in gold. His coat was cut from the outside and the book abstracted in the crowd. His loss was not discovered until he got back to his hotel.

A Milwaukee lady while walking on State street the other day dropped her well-filled purse unknowingly. It was picked up by a newsboy and restored to the owner, who rewarded the honest fellow with a $20 bill. His supreme happiness was most affectingly manifested.

Weddings are now the order of the day. Over eighty happy couples were sent on their way rejoicing for better or worse, the past two days.

An Englishman of huge proportions now residing in Chicago, has two living wives—one in South Carolina, one in England, one in San Francisco, and one with whom he lives. He regularly receives—or his female partner does—the drain from his other wives describing his many short comings and misanthropies. His life is consequently rendered miserable forever.

Our theatres are now fast to competition. Chicago has no other such places of amusement, some of which are equal to the best in the country.

Professor Swing is building a handsome and costly residence for his daughter.
